Abstract:

The study aims at assessing the effect of Boko Haram insurgency on the socio- Economic activities in Yobe state. The negative effect of the terrorists group (Boko Haram) activities on the socio-economic condition of Yobe state of Nigeria has become so overwhelming that even some of the financial institutions and other commercial ventures shut-down in many areas of the state especially the state capital (Damaturu), thereby causing relocation of some non-indigenes to various places. It is based on the aforementioned that this paper seeks to explore the extent to which Boko Haram insurgency has affected the socio-economic development in Yobe state of Nigeria. Furthermore, the paper recommends the roles of Islamic financing in rehabilitating the socio-economic development of the state; and finally, the study will gives some solutions and recommendations to the problems.
